

Abstract:

The present invention provides a process for reacting

- A) polyorganosiloxanes which contain $-\text{Si}(\text{H})$ units and are of the general formula
(I)

with

- B) a mono- or polyhydric alcohol, which comprises using small amounts of a mixture which consists of at least one acid and at least one salt of an acid as a catalyst.